

Table of Contents

Introduction

Section One: Social Justice Unionism, an Overview

The Crisis in the Labor Movement: The Roads Not Taken
By Elly Leary, Page 1.

Social Justice Unionism for the 21st Century: Working People's Assemblies. By Liberation Road, Page 13.

State Of Us Political Economy And Worker Power: December 2021,
By Liberation Road Workers Commision, Page 38.

The Future of the Labor Left, By Khalil Hassan, Page 46.

Section Two: Getting Down to it: Fronts and Methods of Work

Leadership Development Unionism, By Jeff Crosby & Paul McLennan,
Page 67.

A Note to Young Activists— Get a Rank and File Job, the Workplace is Crucial, By Liberation Road Worker Commission, Page 84.

A Note to Socialist Union Staffers, By Liberation Eoad Workers
Commission. Page 91.

Racial Justice Is A Union Issue, By Labor Extension Bulletin, Page 102.

Defending Public Sector Workers and Services, By Liberation Road,
Page 105

A Union-Led 'People's Recovery' By Toussaint, Page 119.

On-the-line in Auto — 1970s-1990, By Elly Leary, Page 124.

Section Three: Broader Strategy

Bridging the chasm between environmental and economic justice A conversation with activists Bill Fletcher, Jr. and Bill Gallegos By Anne Lewis, Page 140.

Reparations: What's the Idea of an African-American Nation Got to Do with It? By Meizhu Lui, Page 154.

Letter to the Editor: We Stay, We Fight for a Better Tennessee. In the Daily Beacon, Page 159.

A Victory for One is a Victory for All: Solidarity with México. By Meizhu Lui, Bruce Hobson, Gabriel Mireles, Frank Martin del Campo, Page 162.

The Modern Tecumseh and the Future of the U.S. Left, By Bill Fletcher, Jr., Page 168.